

theMontclarion.org Internet Privacy Policy

Thank you for visiting themontclarion.org, the web site for The Montclarion, the independent publication serving the students, faculty and staff of Montclair State University.

Your privacy is very important to us. Our policy is to collect no personal information about you when you visit our Web site unless you affirmatively choose to make such information available to us.

When you visit our Web site, our Web server automatically recognizes only the Internet domain and IP address from which you access our Web site. This information does not result in the identification of your personal e-mail address or other personal information. In addition, we gather information regarding the volume and timing of access to our Web site by collecting information on the date, time and Web pages accessed by visitors to the Web site. This is done to assist in improving the content of our Web site. Your individual information is not shared with other organizations.

If you choose to share personal information with us by sending us a message or filling out an electronic form with personal information we will use the information only for the purposes you authorized. Some of the information may be saved for a designated period of time to comply with New Jersey's archiving policies, but we will not disclose the information to third parties or other government agencies, unless required to do so by state or federal law. If we are required to disclose information about you by law, we will make every effort to notify you of the disclosure in advance.

If you have other questions about our privacy policies, please feel free to contact The Montclarion's webmaster via e-mail at msuwebmaster@gmail.com
